

Bistro™

Ideal for ready-to-eat

Bistro™ range containers are specially designed for ready-to-eat meals, offering a practical and attractive solution for food presentation and transportation. Available in different sizes and colors, they are ideal for a wide variety of dishes and portions sizes, meeting the needs of restaurateurs, caterers and food retailers. This versatile range is available in three distinct materials, each with its own advantages.

PP plastic

A reusable and fully recyclable material, microwave and freezer safe.

Aluminum

A material of choice, infinitely recyclable and compatible with several cooking methods.

RPET plastic

A recycled and recyclable plastic offering excellent transparency, ideal for cold products.
